Article no. 4
Article 4 of the Constitution concerns the states.
Section 1: mandates that all states will honor the laws of all other states; this ensures, that for example, if a couple married in Florida is also considered married in Arizona, or that someone convicted of a crime in Virginia is considered guilty by Wyoming.
Section 2: Guarantees that citizens of one state be treated equally and fairly like all citizens of another. It also says that if a person accused of a crime in one other state flees to another, they will be returned to the state they fled from. This section also has a clause dealing with fugitive slaves that no longer applies.
Section 3: concerns the admittance of new states and the control of federal lands.
Section 4: Ensures a republican form of government (representative democracy" and both of which are opposed to a monarchical or aristocratic scheme- the states derives its power from the people, not from a king or gentry, and guarantees that the federal government will protect the states against invasion and insurrection.
